July 1, 2026 IMA Lucknow Organizes Grand National Doctors' Day Celebration

Lucknow, July 1, 2026. On the occasion of National Doctors' Day, the Indian Medical Association, Lucknow Branch organized a dignified ceremony at IMA Bhawan, Lucknow. On this occasion, a total of 96 doctors were honored for their remarkable contribution in the fields of medical service, social service and IMA activities. The programme also included a meaningful discussion on the role of doctors in society, their spirit of service and the strengthening of healthcare services. Hon'ble Deputy Chief Minister and Health Minister, Government of Uttar Pradesh, Shri Brijesh Pathak Ji, graced the occasion as the Chief Guest. Hon'ble Dr. Neeraj Bora Ji, MLA, Lucknow North, was present as the Guest of Honour. In his address, Hon'ble Shri Brijesh Pathak Ji said that doctors are among the most important pillars of society. Doctors not only treat patients, but also provide trust and new hope to society during difficult times. Appreciating the work being done by IMA Lucknow, he said that better coordination between the government and the medical fraternity can further strengthen healthcare services in the state. Hon'ble Dr. Neeraj Bora Ji said that National Doctors' Day is an occasion to honor the dedication, discipline and service spirit of doctors. From the COVID period to regular times, the sincerity with which doctors have served society is truly inspiring. He praised the efforts of IMA Lucknow and said that such programmes give new energy to the medical community. Dr. Neeraj Bora Ji has also served as the former President of the Indian Medical Association, Lucknow. In a message from Dr. Pawan Kumar, DG Health and Director General, Medical and Health, it was stated that doctors play a very important role in further improving healthcare services in the state. He said that doctors should remain especially sensitive towards the treatment of needy and economically weaker patients. Wherever possible, support should be provided to poor patients in investigations, pathology, consultation and treatment, so that financially weaker individuals can receive proper treatment on time. He appealed to doctors to come forward, in keeping with their spirit of service, to help poor patients and provide all possible support in medicines and treatment. IMA Lucknow Secretary Dr. Shweta Srivastava said that the life of a doctor is a life of service, sensitivity and responsibility. National Doctors' Day reminds us that medicine is not just a profession, but a commitment to serve humanity. She said that it is a matter of pride for IMA Lucknow that 96 awardee doctors were honored on this occasion for their outstanding contribution. Dr. Shweta Srivastava specially thanked Hon'ble Deputy Chief Minister Shri Brijesh Pathak Ji for accepting the invitation to the National Doctors' Day celebration. She also expressed gratitude to all senior doctors, members, guests and supporters. IMA Lucknow President Dr. Manoj Kumar Asthana said in his address that IMA has always been committed to upholding the honor, rights and contribution of doctors towards society. He said that IMA Lucknow will continue to work for health awareness, public welfare programmes and empowerment of the medical community in the coming times. The doctors honored on this occasion included Dr. M.L. Tandon, Dr. G.M. Lal, Dr. A.N. Bala, Dr. Ram Kapoor, Col. Dr. S.K. Sharma, Dr. N.B. Scientific CME on National Plastic Surgery Day & World Population Day

Date: 15 July 2026

Venue: IMA Bhawan, River Bank Colony, Lucknow

The Indian Medical Association (IMA), Lucknow Branch successfully organized a Scientific Continuing Medical Education (CME) program on 15 July 2026 at IMA Bhawan to commemorate National Plastic Surgery Day and World Population Day. The scientific session featured distinguished faculty members who delivered informative lectures on various aspects of modern plastic and reconstructive surgery. The presentations included:

- * Dr. Mukta Verma – Facial Rejuvenation
- * Dr. Richa Srivastava – Breast Reduction
- * Dr. Neeraj Upadhyay – Hair Transplantation
- * Dr. Vivek Saxena – Unwanted Hair Removal
- * Dr. Ravi Kumar – Life After Oral Cancer Surgery

During the discussions, the speakers highlighted the remarkable contributions of Maharishi Sushruta, who is universally recognized as the Father of Plastic Surgery. More than 2,600 years ago, he described advanced principles of reconstructive surgery, including rhinoplasty, laying the foundation for modern plastic surgery. It was also noted with pride that a statue of Maharishi Sushruta has recently been installed in Australia, recognizing his immense contribution to global medical science and honoring India's rich medical heritage.

The program was attended by Dr. Shweta Srivastava, Honorary Secretary, IMA Lucknow Branch; Dr. Sanjay Saxena, President-Elect; Executive Committee Members Dr. Ritu Saxena, Dr. Seema Singh, Dr. Rajiv Saxena, along with several senior physicians and IMA members. The CME concluded with a vote of thanks, followed by the presentation of mementoes to all faculty members in appreciation of their valuable academic contributions.

IMA Lucknow Conducts Health Awareness and Medical Camp under the "Aao Gaon Chalein" Campaign
Date: 22 July 2026 Venue: Community Health Centre (CHC), Ghungter, District Barabanki

As part of the "Aao Gaon Chalein" campaign of the Indian Medical Association (IMA), Uttar Pradesh, Dr. Shweta Srivastava, Honorary Secretary, IMA Lucknow, organized a medical outreach and health awareness camp at Community Health Centre (CHC), Ghungter, District Barabanki, on 22 July 2026. During the camp, patients were provided with free medical consultations and appropriate health advice. In addition to patient care, Dr. Shweta Srivastava held an interactive meeting with the medical officers and healthcare staff of the CHC to discuss the growing burden of cervical cancer and the critical role of HPV vaccination in its prevention.

The session focused on the causes, risk factors, and preventive measures for cervical cancer, with special emphasis on increasing awareness among adolescents, parents, and the community. Healthcare workers were encouraged to actively educate the public about the importance of HPV vaccination and to support the Government of India's HPV immunization initiative by promoting accurate information and addressing common misconceptions.

Dr. Shweta Srivastava highlighted that awareness at the grassroots level is essential for improving vaccine acceptance and preventing cervical cancer. She emphasized that healthcare professionals play a pivotal role in educating families and ensuring that eligible beneficiaries receive timely vaccination.

Speaking on the occasion, Dr. Shweta Srivastava, Honorary Secretary, IMA Lucknow, said:

"Community outreach is one of the core responsibilities of the medical fraternity. Through initiatives like 'Aao Gaon Chalein', we aim not only to provide healthcare services but also to strengthen health awareness. IMA Lucknow will continue to organize such camps and awareness programmes in rural and underserved areas to promote preventive healthcare and support public health initiatives, including HPV vaccination."

July 23 rd 2026

It was a privilege to host dinner in Lucknow for Dr. Sharad Kumar Agarwal, patron and Former National President of the Indian Medical Association (IMA Headquarters) on 23 rd july

The evening was attended by Dr. Santosh Singh Sir (Orthopaedic Surgeon), and Aniket Ani

We had an insightful and productive discussion on several key challenges currently facing the medical fraternity, along with a detailed exchange of ideas on the future roadmap for strengthening healthcare and the medical profession.

We also discussed the proposed State Working Committee (SWC) Meeting to be hosted in Lucknow, and I had the opportunity to receive Dr. Agarwal's valuable guidance and suggestions for making the event successful.

It was truly an enriching interaction, and I sincerely appreciate his time, wisdom, and continued support for the medical community.

AFPICON-UP 2026: Advancing the Vision of Family Medicine in Uttar Pradesh

Message from the Honorary Secretary, IMA Lucknow

It is a matter of great pride that Indian Medical Association (IMA), Lucknow, under the leadership of Dr. Manoj Kumar Asthana, President, IMA Lucknow, in collaboration with the Academy of Family Physicians of India - Uttar Pradesh Chapter (AFPI-UP), successfully organized the 2nd State Conference & CME – AFPICON-UP 2026 on 26th July 2026 at Chancellor Club, Ashiyana, Lucknow.

The conference, based on the theme “Family Medicine – Empowering People, Transforming Health Care”, brought together policymakers, public health experts, medical educators, family physicians, and clinicians from across the country to discuss the vital role of Family Medicine in strengthening primary healthcare and improving healthcare delivery in Uttar Pradesh.

The scientific programme featured renowned faculty members from premier institutions, including AIIMS, KGMU, Balrampur Hospital, Command Hospital, ASMC Hardoi, and other leading healthcare organizations. The academic sessions covered a wide spectrum of clinically relevant topics, including the role of Family Physicians in community healthcare, rational therapeutics, digital transformation of hospitals, gastroenterology, ophthalmology, anemia, sexual medicine, fatty liver disease, diabetes, dermatology, and other emerging healthcare challenges.

The conference was graced by the presence of Maj. Gen. Dr. Amit Devgan, Vice Chancellor, Atal Bihari Vajpayee Medical University, Lucknow, as the Chief Guest; Shri Amit Ghosh, IAS, Additional Chief Secretary, Medical Health & Family Welfare, Government of Uttar Pradesh, and Maj. Gen. Dr. Alok Bhalla, VSM, Commandant, Command Hospital, Lucknow, as Guests of Honour.

The inaugural session was further enriched by the presence of Dr. Raman Kumar, Chair Emeritus, AFPI; Dr. Mohan Kubendra, National President, AFPI; Dr. Vandana Boobna, National Vice President, AFPI; Dr. Manoj Kumar Asthana, President, IMA Lucknow; and Dr. Shweta Srivastava, Honorary Secretary, IMA Lucknow, who attended as Special Guest.

The conference was meticulously organized under the leadership of Dr. S. K. Sharma (Organizing Chairperson) and Dr. Piyush Jain (Organizing Secretary), with the support of Dr. Paritosh Tiwari (Co-Organizing Chairperson), Dr. Shiv Kumar Sharma (Co-Secretary), Dr. Jigyasu (Chair, Scientific Committee), Dr. Rachana Gaur (Co-Chair, Scientific Committee), Dr. Manoj Shukla (Chair, Finance Committee), Dr. Ashutosh Kumar Sharma (State Convener, AFPI-UP), and Dr. Maghvendra (Chair, Souvenir & Hospitality Committee), along with their dedicated organizing team.

The scientific programme featured distinguished speakers, including Dr. S. K. Sharma, Dr. Ashutosh Kumar Sharma, Dr. Shiv Kumar Sharma, Prof. (Dr.) Rakesh Dixit, Dr. S. R. Tiruvalavan, Prof. (Dr.) Ajay Kumar Patwa, Prof. (Dr.) Vijay Pratap Singh Tomar, Dr. Rachana Gaur, Dr. Paritosh Tiwari, Dr. Kishor Madhwani, Dr. Mukulesh Gupta, Dr. K. P. Chandra, and Dr. Ajay Kumar Rai, whose evidence-based presentations generated meaningful academic discussions throughout the conference.

A key outcome of the conference was the strong advocacy for integrating Family Medicine into the mainstream public healthcare system of Uttar Pradesh. The deliberations emphasized the need to utilize trained Family Physicians at District Hospitals, Community Health Centres (CHCs), and Primary Health Centres (PHCs) as first-contact clinical specialists. Such an approach can significantly strengthen primary healthcare, reduce unnecessary referrals to tertiary care centres, improve continuity of care, and effectively address the increasing burden of non-communicable diseases, mental health disorders, geriatric illnesses, and emerging public health challenges.

The conference also highlighted the importance of establishing Departments of Family Medicine in Medical Colleges and creating structured opportunities for Family Physicians within the state health services. These recommendations received encouraging support from senior policymakers and health administrators present at the conference.

IMA Lucknow congratulates the entire organizing committee, faculty members, session chairpersons, speakers, delegates, and volunteers for making AFPICON-UP 2026 a grand academic success.

On behalf of IMA Lucknow, I sincerely thank all members who participated and contributed to this landmark conference. Together, let us continue to promote academic excellence, evidence-based clinical practice, and a stronger, community-oriented healthcare system for the people of Uttar Pradesh.

With warm regards,

Dr. Manoj Kumar Asthana

Free Medical Camp Organized by IMA Lucknow under the “Aao Gaon Chalein” Campaign

Date: 28th July 2026

Venue: Suboli Village, Uttar Vidhan Sabha, Lucknow

The Indian Medical Association (IMA), Lucknow, under the Uttar Pradesh state initiative “Aao Gaon Chalein” (Let’s Go to the Villages), organized a Free Medical Camp on 28 July 2026 at Suboli Village, Uttar Vidhan Sabha, Lucknow.

During the camp, Dr. Shweta Srivastava, along with a team of doctors from IMA Lucknow, provided free medical consultations to the villagers. Approximately 40–50 patients were examined, and free medicines were distributed to those requiring treatment.

The “Aao Gaon Chalein” campaign is an important public health initiative of the Indian Medical Association, Uttar Pradesh, under which IMA branches across the state regularly organize outreach medical camps in rural and underserved areas. The initiative aims to extend quality healthcare services to communities with limited access to medical facilities, promote health awareness, encourage early diagnosis, and ensure timely treatment.

IMA Lucknow remains committed to its mission of community service and will continue to organize such free medical camps in the future to improve access to healthcare and promote preventive health practices among rural populations.
